

Economic Outlook for Texas and the Nation

Back by popular demand! Dr. Alan Beaulieu, of the Institute for Trend Research (ITR)

Maximizing the future is all about separating fact from fiction. The fear and uncertainty about the global markets are enough to cause any business leader to wonder if the recovery is durable. Beaulieu will be presenting the economic outlook for our industry and for the global economy with the clarity that business leaders have come to expect from ITR® Economics. Attendees will have no doubt as to the sustainability of the recovery. They will also learn how long the good news will last, the dangers from coming inflationary pressures, what to expect from interest rate movement, and what strategies and tactics should be undertaken now if businesses are to maximize their profit potential in the years to come. This is a must meeting for all leaders looking to prepare for the changes that are coming over the next few years.