

Mac King

With a big howdy, and a warm smile, Mac King has welcomed more than two million audience members during the last 16 years to the Harrah's Showroom for an afternoon of laughter and magic. King captivates audiences as he casts out a fishing line over their heads and catches live goldfish out of mid-air, performs amazing sleights-of-hand, makes his head completely disappear in a paper bag, and renders himself invisible, all while remaining unbelievably funny. Because of his quick wit and extensive audience interaction, no two shows are alike.

In addition to being the only magician to appear on all five episodes of NBC's "World's Greatest Magic," King has made numerous television appearances including a featured performance as part of "Magic Week" on "The Late Show with David Letterman." King's other credits include: "PBS Nova Science Now: Magic & the Brain," "Just for Laughs: Montreal Comedy Festival," "Just for Laughs" TV series, "Houdini: Unlocking His Secrets," "Penn & Teller's Sin City Spectacular," "Masters of Illusion: Impossible Magic," "The Mad Men of Comedy Magic," "Now That's Funny," "Men Are From Mars, Women Are From Venus" starring Cybill Shepherd, the "Donny and Marie Show," "The Other Half," "The Greatest Magic Tricks In the Universe Ever," the Travel Channel's "Magic Road Trip" and "Lance Burton's Guerilla Magic" on Animal Planet.

King has also made several high profile appearances including: The Magic Castle, home of the Academy of Magical Arts, The Luminato Festival "Masters of Magic" series in Toronto, Canada, and Gilda's Laugh Fest, honoring the late Gilda Radner.
